WEBINAR ON "NUTRITIONIST AS A CAREER"

On 21.01.2021, the Department of Nutrition and Dietetics organized a webinar on "Nutritionist as a Career" to educate and guide the students on the various career options which can be opted by them and detailed explanation regarding the Registered Dietitians (RD) examination and its significance.

Miss Kamar Afshan.M, M.Sc.RD., Clinical Nutritionist, HCG Hospital, Bangalore was the guest of the session. She delivered a speech on the importance of becoming a Registered Dietitian and how essential it is for the future. She threw some light on the scope of an individual after the graduation of Nutrition and Dietetics degree, along with the abundant employment opportunities.

She mainly addressed on the significance of the Registered Dietitian Examination along with its eligibility criteria, process and the syllabus included. She mentioned about the papers included with the time allotted for each of them with the different types of questions which would be asked and describing them with respective examples.

She also imparted information on the examination pattern and the preparation scheme for gaining knowledge and studying accordingly for the exam. She gave examples on how to correlate subjects enlisted for the exam and insisted the importance of Human physiology, Anatomy, Biochemistry and Nutrition deficiencies occurring simultaneously without missing out the important details. She even suggested various hospitals where clinical nutritionists are available along with the information regarding Registered Dietitian internship.

This webinar was conducted in online mode (150) and in the college Mini conference hall (36) around (186) students participated. This webinar was informative and helpful for all the students, as there was a question and answer session and all their doubts were clarified.
